“ I went to school with Wendy k-12at Ft. Calhoun. She always had a smile on her face, a contagious giggle, and in elementary school wore the prettiest dresses her mom sewed for her. All of us girls were so excited to see which dress she would wear each day....and maybe just a little bit jealous. My sympathies to Wendy’s entire family. I’m sure she filled your lives with joy and laughter.

“ Our deepest sympathy to all the family. Many, many memories of times with Wendy when we were growing up. Not related by blood, but connected through family marriage, we have memories of many times with Wendy through the years. We hope you all find comfort in your memories. “ It's been a few days now since my friend, former paramedic student, and valued colleague chose to leave us and go home into the waiting arms of God. I just had to process everything which continues to include lots of reflection and prayer.

My deepest condolences to JB, Abbey, and the many people whose lives she touched everyday. You will be greatly missed, Wendy. Only you and almighty God know the extent of the fear and pain that you were feeling. There will always be questions, regrets and endless lists of what ifs that our humanness compells us to ask. We now see incompletely, but one day we will see clearly and know even as God knows us.

Until then, let's all take comfort in the love and peace of God. Let's celebrate our time with our sister Wendy with faithful assurance of life and love without end. I love you Wendy. Until we meet again, Godspeed.

“ I'm so sorry for your loss. Wendy always had a contagious smile on her face. I just saw her a few weeks ago when she came to pick up some feed for her farm critters. We had a good giggle as we always did. I will miss her sassy self. Rest in peace my friend.

“ Providing meals for those in need in her area, encouraging daughter Abbey with her love of raising farm animals and learning to ride horses, helping Abbey with her academic success, and her ability to know how to run a farm operation are just a few of her lasting memories that will be remembered by friends and family.

“ Wendy made everyone feel like family. Even before she joined ours, she felt like a sister. Whether you needed advice or a helping hand, you could always count on her to have your back. We are blessed to have so many wonderful memories to give us comfort. We will miss you, and you will always hold a special place in our hearts.
