“ When I was a very young boy, my dad and Howard & Phyllis (Uncle Howard and Aunt Phyllis) were good friends. Once in a when we were able to spend the weekend at their farm and help. Although these are memories from more than 50 years ago, I used to love going there and it is where I learned to gather eggs and shell corn by hand. I also I remember something about dandelion wine under the basement stairs... I hadn't seen this until now and send along my condolences to the family. These were good people and good friends of our family.
